

For more information contact:

Genencor Media: Jennifer Hutchins 585 256 6973

Danisco US Inc.
200 Meridian Centre Boulevard
Rochester, New York 14618
USA
Tel +1 585 256 5200
Fax +1 585 256 6952
www.genencor.com

GENENCOR APPLAUDS CONGRESS FOR PASSAGE OF FARM BILL

Provisions will accelerate commercialization of advanced biofuels

ROCHESTER, NY - May 16, 2008 - Genencor, a division of Danisco A/S, applauds the passage of the Farm Bill by the U.S. House yesterday and U.S. Senate today. The Farm Bill includes provisions which will encourage more rapid development of advanced biofuels. Genencor Chief Executive Officer, Tjerk de Ruiter, issued the following statement:

“With passage of this bill, the United States continues to demonstrate its commitment to renewable energy. These provisions will allow our industry to rapidly achieve the commercialization of low-carbon biofuels through both the construction of large-scale biorefineries and in ongoing research and development of enzymes and other biorefinery processes.

“The cellulosic biofuels tax credit, loan guarantees and Biomass Crop Assistance Program will help farmers, biotechnology companies and producers to deploy technology for turning crop residues and dedicated energy crops from non-food feedstocks into renewable energy.

“The farm bill energy title will ensure that the United States can produce both food and fuel in abundance.”

On May 14, Genencor announced that it entered a 50/50 joint venture with DuPont for development and deployment of cellulosic ethanol. For more information go to www.dupontdanisco.com.

About Genencor

Genencor, a division of Danisco A/S, is a leader in the industrial biotechnology sector. In more than 40 countries, Genencor's 1,500 employees develop and market innovative enzymes and biobased solutions to improve the performance and reduce the environmental impact of a wide variety of industries, from laundry detergents to transportation fuels. Genencor also develops and produces enzymes for the food, beverage and animal nutrition industries, which are sold under the Danisco brand. In partnership with our customers, technology leaders and other stakeholders, Genencor's cutting-edge biotech platform provides competitive and sustainable solutions to the world, positioning Genencor as one of the leaders in the emerging biobased economy.